the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 16.5 million by 2020, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 8.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000). The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to be due to a combination of factors, including a decline in the birth rate, a decline in the death rate, and a decline in the rate of emigration.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to have a significant impact on the UK's economy and society. The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to lead to a decline in the number of people in the workforce, which will lead to a decline in the number of people who are able to pay taxes. This will lead to a decline in the amount of money that is available to fund public services, including the National Health Service (NHS). The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is also expected to lead to a decline in the number of people who are able to support themselves, which will lead to an increase in the number of people who are dependent on the state for financial support.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is also expected to have a significant impact on the UK's housing market. The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to lead to a decline in the number of people who are able to afford to buy a house, which will lead to a decline in the number of houses that are sold. This will lead to a decline in the number of houses that are available for rent, which will lead to an increase in the number of people who are unable to find a place to live. The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is also expected to lead to a decline in the number of people who are able to afford to live in a care home, which will lead to a decline in the number of care homes that are available.

The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is also expected to have a significant impact on the UK's health care system. The increase in the number of people aged 65 and over is expected to lead to a decline in the number of people who are able to pay for health care, which will lead to a decline in the amount of money that is available to fund the NHS. Emerson High School, Gary, Indiana

Together we work-- Together we win

Lockers bang! Sounds of laughter and talking float through the venerable halls of Emerson School. Still early, yet many students are at school; more, coming. Some rush about in a mad race against time while others, going at a slower gait, produce an actual Niagara of noise by telling jokes, recounting experiences, and talking in a down-to-earth manner concerning their numerous problems.

Suddenly above the gay confusion, the clear-cut notes of a bugle ring forth! Immediately all activities cease and silence reigns supreme. Standing at attention while the call echoes throughout the corridors, Emersonians follow a tradition established by Major W. W. Edwards in 1920. Twenty-three years later, 1943, the bugle call, blown each morning and evening, symbolizes and reaffirms the pledge of youth—to serve the United States unsparingly with every ability and in every capacity.

The crystal notes of the bugle fade away, and a new day at Emerson has begun! A new day and a new year in which Emersonians work together, play together, and strive together to be worthy of America, still land of hope.

Early in September, this sign above the auditorium door, displaying hundreds of keys, properly opened for us the year with the slogan, "Emerson Keys For Victory."

One of our greatest joys was watching the scrap pile grow from a few pounds to 35,000 pounds. The grade school led in this drive under the fine leadership of Major Bob Preuss and Miss Harrison.

Registers 312, 309, 211, 316, 113, 52, 308, 207, 204, 310, 302, 209, 217, 103, 123, 101, 131, and 109 donated money to purchase Red Cross kits for men and women in service overseas. The Roselette Club, sponsored by Mrs. McCarman, financed and carried this project to completion.

Another memorable activity of this war year was the publication of two issues of the "Emerson Courier," a Christmas number and a Valentine number. This was done by the senior girls of register 310 under the splendid initiative and fine skill of Mary Kathrine Lieber, editor. She was assisted by Blanche Predaina, Mary Pitchford, Betty McCubbin, Dorothy Rockhill, Mary Margaret McGuire, Lorraine Robbins, Joann Little, Francis Monroe, Marcy Pfeil, Sadie Sides, Nan Mack, Dorothy Dean Oeth, Mildred Roades, Marilyn Laird, and Mildred Zivonovich. Several hundred copies were sent. Thank-you letters came in from all over the globe. Of these Lt. David Benjamin's from North Africa was typical. Wrote he, "Words are inadequate to express my surprise and elation when I discovered the "Emerson Courier" in my mail. It was the first mail I had received in many months."

Register 310 also compiled a roster of Emerson boys and girls in service. The chairman of this activity was Violet Lolich. Sophie Zyha, Rosemary Trivonovich, Ann Panepinto, Mildred Roades, Betty McCubbin, and Eleanor Yankovich formed the committee. Although the work was not finished, register 310 hopes that some other register will continue the work so that this vital part of Emerson history will be accurate and complete.

Parents, teachers, and students rationed cheerfully. The school was glad to welcome many of the alumni who, on this occasion, made their first visit back. Newcomers to the Emerson neighborhood were introduced to the school by this rationing week. The Emerson representative from the Ration Board 45-3 was Mr. Hilmer I. Seaburg. Although we all worked, his special lieutenants were Mr. Spaulding, Mr. Bohn, Mrs. Stoner, and Miss Doyle.

As we go to press, we would like to give special patriotic awards to two of Uncle Sam's favorite nieces, Marilyn Laird and Miss Hazel Harrison because through their efforts the record of bonds and stamps sold to date stands $37,204.85. Tri Sigma led by Marilyn Laird, Ellen Jean Keirn, Virginia Kelly, Mildred Orgon, and Miss Tappan started selling stamps and bonds soon after school opened. On December seventh, memorializing Pearl Harbor, $5,484.90 worth of bonds and stamps were purchased with the grade school definitely outdistancing the high school. The peak sale was on Minute Man Day, Tuesday, April 20, when Emerson School subscribed $21,544.35. The Board of Control headed by Frank Roman and Mr. Carlberg assisted in this drive. Again the grade school topped the high school by a margin of $864.75. U. S. Treasurer Morgenthau sent us an award of honor. Berlin papers please copy. Gestapo, look out for those two gals, Marilyn Laird and Hazel Harrison.

Marion Fickes buys a bond from Georgia Faye, while Ellen Jean Keirn, Marilyn Laird, and Virginia Kelly look on. A. O. A. Major Robert Preuss scraps Gary's first fire bell. Air raid drill takes us to Virginia Street. Miss Doyle, chief registrar, and Doris Nikchevich dispensing ration book two. Coach Rolfe and Mr. Warrum sharing rides. Stephanie Rashevich sells James Fox stamps, December 7th, commemorating Pearl Harbor. Grade school boys throw scrap for a gain. The football team takes time out from practice to donate to Community and War Chest Drive.

Together We Learn, Save, SERVE, Conserve, Share

In classes, too, we keyed for victory. Because it was nine months after Pearl Harbor—because boys in khaki, the boys in blue thronged our halls and classrooms urging us to make school count—because many of us had worked during the summer—because the bombers kept zooming in the blue—because the mills belched fire day and night, all of these made us realize we were part of the world conflict and made us start school with a new zest.

The three R's took on new significance when the Army and the Navy said they must be better. The specials—auditorium, physical training, and industrial arts—showed us the way to victory giving us needed skills and maintaining morale.

In this war year of 1943 many classes were new for instructor as well as the instructed. Aeronautics dealt with the mechanism and working of the airplane, introducing the student to pre-flight training demands.

In home economics, nutrition and home nursing classes were offered. The nutrition class sponsored many evening demonstrations open to mothers and friends of Emerson. The nursing course included care of the convalescent. Sewing classes, grade and high school, contributed dresses to the Red Cross.

The math department conducted refresher courses as well as the regular and the advanced classes. Safety classes stressed first aid, devoting five weeks to general safety instruction and fifteen to first aid.

In this year we learned and we served, together in everything we did. The R.O.T.C. took on many extra duties cheerfully and performed them creditably.

Tech School, now, more than ever, stressed the importance of preparing boys to enter the modern mechanical world. This year's enrollment increased by ten per cent.

Two new courses were offered this year: machine and auto-mechanics. The program this year offered classes five days a week which were open to high school boys who wished to prepare for industry.

Besides attending Tech School, many "Tech" boys applied their skill in war industries. Upon entering the armed forces many of the boys received special ratings due to their mechanical skill.

The Gary Technical School Board was comprised of the members of the Gary School Board.

Faculty

They Pointed The Way

This year our genial assistant principal, Mr. Bohn, in addition to his numerous duties as supervisor of grade school classes and chief of supplies, has ably led the Gary Schools Principals' Association. To every defense activity Emerson engineered, Mr. Bohn gave ready support. Not the least of his jobs was that of head air raid warden, in charge of all Gary theatres.

Mr. Spaulding, dean of Indiana principals, has been school leader during two war periods, since he has been Emerson principal for thirty-three years. He worked assiduously for all war projects, concentrating particularly on the sale of war bonds. The greatest of his joys this year has been the many letters from students serving in all parts of the world assuring him they remember him and "dear old Emerson."

Board of Education

Unusual is this Board in that all members have or have had children attending the Gary schools. Lack of substitute teachers, and loss of teachers to war jobs and selective service have made their job doubly hard. We of Emerson commend them for the excellent job they have done, and express our sincere appreciation to them—our friends.

Standing: Mr. Cloyce A. Bowers, asst. secretary; Mr. Charles D. Lutz, superintendent; Mr. Glenn Kearick, secretary; Seated: Mr. Lloyd F. Burress, vice-president; Mrs. Edith E. Dorman, treasurer; Mr. Edward T. Doync, president.

Parent Council

"Experience is a great teacher," and many of the parent council are well-learned in the art of rationing. Our thanks are due those members who gave their time and energy to help.

School activities and finances are topics of discussion at their monthly meetings. Many parents now understand the students' viewpoint more thoroughly through their closer contact with them.

Guth—guest, Mrs. Geo. Swan, Mrs. E. B. Cramer—guest, Mrs. H. S. Dawson, Mrs. L. C. Dawson—guest.

Office Staff

Efficient, amiable, accommodating—these describe our office staff. Working steadily and faithfully throughout the year, they were willing helpers at football and basketball games, the war stamp and bond sales, and writing recommendations for boys entering the service. Their task was not an easy one, but they handled it capably. To them we owe our gratitude.

Seeing no reason for scrapping any subject, our faculty thought that a war year was a good time to teach anything in the regular curricular better than ever before. Programs for students who worked in the mills and the stores were adjusted, and school credit was given for this work. However, the student had to carry the usual basic subjects.

The faculty's most important job of the year, which they accomplished with their usual success, was making clear to students the program of a nation at war. The slogan, "Learn, Serve, Conserve, Share, and Save" was interpreted and practiced. There was also the matter of making understandable such vital matters as rationing, wise buying, planned saving, and democratic ideals. Thus "Four Freedoms" became more than a phrase. Although we did not go in for uniforms and special awards, we did align ourselves with the Victory Corps Program.

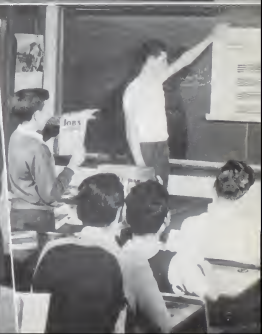

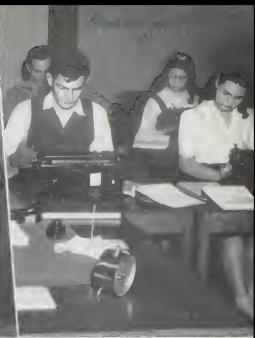

Room 105 was a very popular place this year because all departments showed films. This augmenting of the regular program was very well received.

Miss Tappan's classes prepared a scrapbook giving a comprehensive record of Emerson's war activities. This received honorable mention in the state contest.

The Good Neighbor Policy was promoted in the Language Arts group by the showing of films of Mexico, Central America, and South America.

Working with Mr. Bohn and the primary academic leaders, Miss Allen and Mrs. Harris carried on an experiment to determine the effect of formal instruction on reading readiness test results. A fine report was made with the general conclusion that the results warranted repeating the experiment for a longer period under more favorable conditions.

As we go to press, the pros and cons of a 100% promotion are being discussed by faculty and parents. Mr. Bohn, Miss Jones, Miss Elliott, and Mrs. LaDeaux led panel discussions based on the book, Promotion or Failure? by Carleton M. Eawyer.

Activities

Curtains, Lights, Action

The focus of interest in this picture is easy to note —Hats Off," an operetta on the life of John Jaul Jones— written by our own Miss Harrison and Mrs. Lee of Froebel. Grouped about Miss Harrison are Susan D. Dyley, speech; Grace Sayers, music; Margaret D. Paul, speech; Melba Cromer, music.

Gavel Club

The ultimate honor for which every student in the Speech and Drama Department at Emerson strives is an invitation for membership to the National Masque and Gavel Club. Miss Hazel Harrison has headed this organization in the state of Indiana since 1936.

In order to attain membership, the student must meet the following requirements: be a graduating senior; have the requirements for a vocational diploma in auditorium; have earned 60 points in extra-curricular auditorium, and finally the student must have the unanimous approval of the auditorium faculty.

Nine aspiring Thespians achieved this honor. They were Bettie Beddingfield, Geraldine Boswell, Jack Bryan, Candida Garcia, Chester Henson, Edward Madden, Leo Noe, Cecil Oliver, and Phyllis Underwood.

A banquet was given in their honor by the charter members of the society. It was held in the school cafeteria on May 25, 1943. There the new members were formally initiated and presented with pins bearing the masque and gavel.

Dramatic Class

Emerson students who wish to live creatively have taken advantage of the many opportunities offered by the Senior Dramatic Class. Ably guided by Miss Margaret D. Paul, this class developed a taste for fine literature. Not only does Dramatic Class serve as a pleasant diversion from daily studies, but it is beneficial in building personality.

The class calendar was a busy one, including individual skits and group work. Among group undertakings were The Little Minister, The Bond Between, Guns Against the Snow, Midwinter Nightmare, Everyman, and radio programs. Some individual skits were Androcles and the Lion, Pelang, The Pied Piper, Arsenic and Old Lace, and Mary Queen of Scotland. Work was done by committee organization.

The class held tryouts for new members at the beginning of the second semester and took in four. They were Louis Cina, Doris McDaniels, June Blecharczyk, and Betty Pouls.

Auditorium Council

The auditorium council, popularly elected, was organized to maintain the standards set up for auditorium activities. Different council groups were in charge of each class period. Some of the group leaders were Richard Swan, Eugene Miller, Beverly Fenton, Tim Sullivan, Cecil Oliver, Helen Reynolds, Patricia Tidwell, and Donna Richards. This council was organized and inaugurated by Miss Hazel Harrison.

Senior Stunt Day

Another of Emerson's traditions is Senior Stunt Day which, this year, was on June 4. On this day, the Seniors in 2:15 auditorium prepared a skit to present an audience filled with graduates and guests. This performance has imitations of the highlights of the past four years beginning with the Freshman Frolic and including such events as the Sophomore Hop, Junior Rose Day, social club initiations, Junior Prom, and the Junior Aptitude Test. These are presented satirically and bring back fond memories.

Glee Club

A Cappella

The A Cappella Choir is a coed singing group of selected voices chosen by Miss Grace Sayers, director. Miss Sayers organized the choir in 1930, and similar groups have subsequently been initiated in the other Gary high schools. Emerson's A Cappella has been in popular demand and has won recognition throughout the city.

The choir cooperated in the Christmas Pageant and "Everyman."

The officers of this organization who have led the choir in the past year were: Nan Mack, president; Chester Henson, vice-president; Frances Smothers, girls' treasurer; Bill Jacoby, boys' treasurer; Blanche Sacketos, girls' librarian; Bill Jacoby, boys' librarian.

The Glee Club is an all-girl choir. Membership is attained through tryouts held at the beginning of each year.

Its outstanding presentation of the year was the "Bolero" given for the Emerson "Spice and Variety." The Glee Club also participated in the Christmas Pageant.

The officers of the Club were: President, Phyllis Banker; Vice-President, Dorothy Oeth; Treasurer, Mary Pitchford; Librarians, Toulva Veikos and Dorothy Lewandowski.

We Had Fun

Every other Monday at 4:00 o'clock in room 211, the Latin Club members held their meetings. Most of that time was spent making joke books for men in service. The Army Station Hospital in Chicago was the destination for these books. All of them were made under the guidance of Miss Smith, sponsor. Officers this year were President, Robert Cannon; Vice President, Mary Wolfington; Secretary, Pat Walker; Treasurer, Bob Moise.

F.A.B. is the oldest social club at Emerson. Mrs. Pierce was again the faculty advisor. The purpose is chiefly social. Activities started early in the summer with the annual cottage outing at Miller. Later a picnic was held at the lake.

After school convened, in October, the girls had the traditional Freshman Tea to orient freshman girls. In addition they sponsored a Victory Dance, a candy sale, and a spaghetti supper. The girls offered their services to the many war organizations and helped to boost the Goodfellow Fund with a contribution of $5.

Selling War Bonds and Stamps have kept the members of Tri Sigma busy, but they found time to have theater parties, a candy sale, a dance, and formal initiation held in the home of the president, Mary Pitchford. They were good samaritans at Thanksgiving, delivering a basket of food to a needy family.

The purpose of the club is to be a big sister to freshmen. Miss Tappan took the responsibility as sponsor some years ago and continued to do so this year.

Glenn Miller, Harry James, Tommy Dorsey, and many others furnished the music for dancing February 19, 1943, recordings of course. The Tri Sigma-F.A.B. Farewell Dance was the occasion. Dancing was preceded by a banquet for the members of the two clubs.

Pink, blue and white were the colors used in decorating the gym and cafeteria.

Wilma Lee Danskin, president of F.A.B., and Mary Pitchford, president of Tri Sigma, and their escorts led the grand march at 9 o'clock. Dancing continued until 11:30 at which time the girls said farewell to social club activities.

The underclass girls also have their social club at Emerson, the Roselette. This season's activities were slow in starting because they lacked a sponsor, until Mrs. McCarnan replaced Miss Jones. Members made a register campaign for nickels to help fill Red Cross kits. Roselette girls equipped 24 kits. April 9, 1943, was their farewell event, when they, too, had a dance.

The war did not stop the Hi-Y. Even with their president, Elmer Eckstrom, in the Army and the membership decreasing because of the boys leaving for the armed services, the club still goes on. Initiation was one of the outstanding events of the year. Among other things, there was a party on New Year's, and a spring dance with ten percent of the receipts going to the Red Cross fund. A basket of toys was delivered to the children in the T.B. Sanitarium. Ping-pong and basketball provided entertainment for the boys after business meetings. Their basketball team won a tournament league at the Y.M.C.A.

Learning to speak simple Spanish; studying the people and their customs; fostering good feeling between Spanish-speaking people—these are the purposes of the Spanish Club. Mrs. Reyher, Spanish instructor, is the sponsor. Meetings were conducted mostly in Spanish on a convenient Wednesday of each month. Guest speakers, movies, and contests were featured. Spanish songs and games were much enjoyed.

We Gladly Serve

The mission of the R.O.T.C. is to qualify the student as a leader whether in peace or in war, to help prepare him to discharge his duties as a citizen, and to awaken in him an appreciation of the obligations of citizenship. Students who complete the course, according to their own abundant testimony, secure personal benefits which are invaluable to them in their occupations. They are better citizens because they have had inculcated an understanding of the responsibilities of citizenship. They realize more fully that the benefits their own generation enjoys were secured by the sacrifices made by their predecessors.

This year all physically fit Sophomores became new recruits in accordance with the new ruling of the Board of Education. They literally poured into the vacant ranks made by last year's graduating Seniors. Old 1903 Springfields were exchanged for wooden and plastic imitations which proved mighty awkward at first.

Class periods were spent in various ways by the R.O.T.C. cadets. The new cadets studied military courtesy, divers methods of sanitation and first aid, citizenship, and rifle marksmanship. There was a scarcity of second year cadets, but they were taught rifle marksmanship, military organization, tactical training in scouting and patrolling, and our military policy as determined by the National Defense Act of 1920. The seasoned veterans were instructed in the technique of rifle fire, map reading, characteristics of weapons, and the combat training of the squad, platoon, and company. In addition, all R.O.T.C. cadets participated in the daily calisthenics and drill. At least once a week they saw motion pictures produced by the Signal Corps concerning infantry training. R.O.T.C. cadets were also used as hall guards whenever possible.

Tribune Medals were awarded this year by Mr. Phillip Maxwell, representing a Chicago publisher. Merle Strasburg was awarded the gold medal as the outstanding third year cadet; Thomas Thompson, outstanding second year cadet; and Harold Rickard, outstanding first year cadet.

On February 11, Lieutenant Colonel Chauncey Hayden commissioned the permanent officers for the year. Edward Madden, a dynamic and forceful commander, was made Lieutenant Colonel. Henry Gordon was placed second in command of the Emerson R.O.T.C. as major. Captains Cecil Oliver and Merle Strasburg were commissioned in charge of Companies A and B, respectively. John Eloff, James Ferguson, and Charles Wardrip were commissioned as Lieutenant Adjutants to assist the commanding officers. Lieutenants Charles Guemple, Steve Gajewski, Kenneth Keever, and Tony Rondinelli are the platoon leaders in both companies.

The Emerson R.O.T.C. rifle team was really at "Home on the Range" this year. The team included: Major Henry Gordon, Second Sergeant Henry Jaske, third-year cadets Paul Stanko, and second-year Cadets Harold Rickard and Leland Penrod. Instructor Sergeant Johnson rated Major Gordon as the best shot in the Gary R.O.T.C.

Gordon shot 767 points out of a possible 800 points, and he represented Emerson in the Hearst Trophy rifle matches. These five cadets fired in the Fifth Corps Area matches and placed second which permitted them to shoot in the National Championship. Sharpshooter medals were awarded to them. The R.O.T.C. sponsored several dances to buy shooting coats for the rifle team which is the best equipped in the city.

The annual Military Ball was held early in May and was attended by about 500 couples. Because of the large number attending, the Ball was held at the Armory.

The Military Ball was followed by Federal Inspection the last part of May. It was conducted by a commissioned army officer from the Fifth Service Command.

Sergeant Cecil W. Johnson was Emerson's chief instructor succeeding Sergeant Cook. Under Johnson's guidance and instruction, the Emerson R.O.T.C. moved definitely forward.

Forseeing the war, Sergeant Johnson entered the Army at Fort Harrison in March, 1939, as a private and worked his way up to a sergeant in February, 1941. He has been decorated three times for service and rifle marksmanship.

The third year instruction was under the guidance of Sgt. Hershel Souders who entered the army as a private, at Fort Logan, Colorado, in June, 1917. During his twenty-six years of service he has constantly been a non-commissioned officer. Sgt. Souders left Gary February 22, 1943, to assume new duties, in the Indianapolis R.O.T.C. unit. Emerson cadets, sorrowfully said goodbye to "One of the Best."

Sergeant Walter Cook started off the year as the chief-instructor at Emerson but was called away to active service in November. He excelled as a pistol coach and served in Hawaii. Sergeant Cook joined the Army in 1927 and was at Emerson school for two years.

In November, Private Alfred Mecklenburg took Sergeant Cook's place as instructor of the second-year cadets. He was a student at Ohio State University before entering the Army at Fort Harrison. Private Mecklenburg is a fine addition to the instructional staff.

Nine of the students held outside jobs, working an average of 18 hours per week. The average program of the Honor Society students totalled 23 points, while the average number of graduation points earned by February, 1943, was 14.8. Four honor society students served on the Board of Control, and seven, on the annual staff.

The Emerson Honor Society further shows its leadership by the three senior boys, the highest R.O.T.C. officers in school. Edward Madden was Lieut. Colonel; Henry Gordon, Major; and Cecil Oliver, Captain.

Those elected to membership the first semester of '42-'43 were Robert Moise, Mary Wolfington, Charlotte, Darding, Martha Hannan, Eugene Weiss, Jane Colley, and Ralph Robinson. The twelve students accepted the second semester included Leo Roth, Phyllis Miller, Eulene Reed, Phyllis Saffron, June Townsley, Clara Menekis, Patricia Walker, Blanche Sacketos, Virginia Dwyer, Richard Shedlak, Catherine Coveris, and Bill Randall.

Characteristic of the Honor Society is service, and the members reflect it. Several bonds have been purchased this year which will be added to the Scholarship Fund. They also published the Last Will and Testament which was presented to the Senior Class on class day, according to tradition.

The officers for 1942-1943, who worked with Miss Hazel Greiger, sponsor, are president, Edward Madden; vice-president, Candida Garcia; treasurer, Henry Gordon; secretary, Mary Kathrine Lieber. The Senior Honor Society Council included Miss Tinsman, Mr. Warrum, Mrs. Pierce, Miss Benscoter, Miss Talbot, Mr. Connerly, and Mr. Spaulding.

They Bolstered the Budget

"Sweet" sellers are what we fondly call the girls who participated in the candy sale for the benefit of the Emersonian. Their task was no easy one since the war emergency made a distinct difference in the kind and amount of sweets to be had.

The success of the sale, for it was a success, was due to the energetic work of Miss Mary Ban, faculty sponsor, and her dependable and trustworthy aids.

Miss Ban had two able assistants, Pauline Titak and Rose Goldman, during the first ten weeks of the candy sale. These two girls promptly, every morning, prepared the booth for selling, and in the evening they collected and neatly placed the candy in boxes for use in the morning again. Candida Garcia and Ruth Heath were selected as assistants for the latter part of the candy sale which began February 15, 1943.

The sale of candy carried through a twenty-week period separated into ten-week sections per semester.

"To have or not to have?" That was the question. After three weeks of suspense, worry, and more suspense, the decision was "to have." The 1943 Emersonian was Faculty approved. Immediately the cry was to take orders, meet the goal, and surpass previous records. "Veni, vidi, vici!" Totaling 599 books and 156 padded covers, we did out-sell all others. George Nabhan walked away with sales honors by selling 73 books.

Our leaders were the best. Edward Madden and Mildred Zivonovich were co-editors. Phyllis Underwood, Jeanne Anderson, and Mary Kay Lieber managed the business. Art editor was Louis Cina. If you saw your sponsor's orchid notes on the bulletin board, you know about the rest of us. It is traditional with us that each staff member does his bit in selling and producing the book.

On October 19, 1942, we attended a press conference sponsored by the Horace Mann staff. Mr. William Dooley of Notre Dame was the chief speaker at the banquet. The clinic sessions before the dinner were very profitable and well attended.

Our faith in Santa Claus had a new lease on life when Leonard Predaina of the Navy brought us two dozen flash bulbs the day before the Christmas holiday started. Anshell Rackoff and Blanche Predaina snapped for us. Allen Fleishman gave us a snap which you will find on the football lettermen page. Ann Bucko, Andy Mihal, and Dick Hall drew for us.

For financial assistance we are particularly grateful to Miss Ban and her candy sellers, the Social Committee, the Senior Class, and the Booster Committee.

Students Choose Student Rule

The Board of Control, Emerson's student government organization, is composed of representatives elected in the preceding May. Frank Roman, president, with the efficient sponsorship of Mr. Carlberg, has accomplished many worthwhile projects. Representative achievements of this group were a Community Chest Drive, the commemorative monument of the Work-Study-Play System, and contributions toward the war effort by boosting all stamp drives and backing all school war efforts.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS

Charlotte Darding, Arthur Gerometta (chairman), Jack McLaughlin, Mildred Zivonovich, Helen Reynolds, George Mihal, Mary Finan.

The Scholarship Committee was ably led by Edward Madden with the cooperation of the faculty advisor, Miss Minnie Talbot. Scholarship register representatives went back to their groups and worked to bring their register standing for decreased ineligibility.

Creating school spirit is the purpose of the Booster Committee. This peppy group, guided by Phyllis Banker, is responsible for our "solid" cheerleaders and the promotion of all school events. With sorrow they saw Miss File, their former sponsor, leave to serve her country in the W.A.V.E.S. However, her place was competently filled by Miss Newton, organizer extraordinary.

Social Committee members were called the morale builders because they sponsored such successful dances as the R.O.T.C.; Christmas Dance; the Annual Benefit Dance; the Football Victory Dance; and F.A.B. - Tri Sigma Farewell Dance. In addition they had purchased $100 in War Bonds in March. The yearbook staff's morale was considerably bolstered by receiving $50 from the Social Committee. Jane Colley and Miss Reynolds led the group.

Good citizenship and hall order are the goals of the Building and Grounds Committee. This committee is composed of the eight head hall guards with Art Gerometta, chairman. The new plan of using R.O.T.C. boys as hall guards has proved very successful for the military is unmoved by pleading. Emersonians owe a great deal to Miss Ban, faculty sponsor, and the committee, for reasonably quiet halls.

WILLIAM

Although new at Emerson, Coach Klug is a product of our own Steel City, being a graduate of Horace Mann. He led the frosh football team through a perfect season, no defeats or ties. He lavished all his talent on the perfecting of the basketball team. In this, his first year, he coached the team to the first place position in the Western H.I.H.S.C., an outstanding accomplishment. His keen sense of humor and winning ways have won him as many friends as his coaching ability has won fans. Congratulations, Coach Klug, on the grand start you've made at Emerson!

A. J. Rolfe

ARTHUR J.
ROLFE

The best thing that hit Gary fifteen years ago was the arrival of Arthur J. Rolfe as head football mentor at Emerson. He hails from Anaconda, Montana, and is an alumni of Carleton College, class of 1918. We hope to have him here when we send Junior to school. During his tutoring of "gridiron maul," Rolfe has coached many outstanding teams. His firm belief in physical fitness, exercised in his class rooms, carries over and pays dividends in contest battles. Commenting on the '42 football season, Coach Rolfe is of the opinion that, "We should've won the State Championship!"

Although Coach Connelly left us early in November to join the United States Navy, he has not been forgotten. The fellows will always remember his super chalk talks and the inimitable mathematical processes by which he figured the outcome of track meets. The reserve football team plunging through the season with an unblemished record was another sample of Connelly's coaching ingenuity. Lt. Connelly is making as great a success of his Navy career as he did with his coaching job at Emerson. Some day soon we hope to hear Coach Connelly's voice echoing throughout the gymnasium calling the boys together for calisthenics.

Starting the season with a "green" but plenty willing squad of football players, the newest edition of the Golden Tornado inaugurated the 1942 season by pasting tough Provigo of Maywood, Illinois, 20-0. Team scoring was well-balanced and provided the boys with the proper start.

Bringing the war back to Gleason Field (football war, of course), Emerson trounced Tolleston 20-0. Roman proved his ability as a point-getter by tallying 13 points via the ground route.

Encountering the Wildcats of Hammond in their next affray, the Terrific Tornado tamed them to the tune of 27-0, making it the third consecutive white-wash chalked up by the Tornado.

October 2, 1942, was a memorable day in the annals of Emersonia, because on that day Emerson literally lost the state championship to Washington of East Chicago by a score of 20-19. The boys fought to the end with the outcome in doubt till the final gun.

Meeting the Blue Devils of Froebel almost proved fatal, but thanks to the placements of George Mihal, the Tornado was able to edge Froebel, 14-12. Touchdowns by Settle and Swan helped provide the payoff punch. Froebel played its best game of the season, but it wasn't quite good enough.

Defeating highly touted West Rockford of Illinois 13-12, the Tornado increased its prestige as a powerful aggregation.

After a scoreless first half, the Golden Tornado came roaring back in the third quarter to score 13 points and an ultimate victory over arch-rival Lew Wallace. The score was 13-0, but facts and figures show that the Tornado scored a one-sided victory.

The Rolfemen virtually cinched the city title by defeating the tough Horsemen of Horace Mann 12-7. Touchdowns by Schieb and Biernat along with the superb line play oiled the skids for Mann.

Winding up a highly successful season by defeating Roosevelt of Gary 19-0, the Golden Tornado emerged City Champ and Runnerup in the NIHSC.

This season marked Emerson's 25th year of gridiron warfare, and the 15th under Coach Rolfe. The Tornado won eight games and lost one. However, by virtue of its excellent record, Emerson was awarded third place in the state rankings.

The varsity wasn't the only big gun at Emerson, however, for the Reserves and Frosh posted impressive wins and wiped the season's slate clean with no defeats or ties.

The annual Football Banquet was held in the school cafeteria December 15, 1942. Stanley Wellence and Bill Biernat were elected co-captains for 1943. The main attractions were eating and talking football. Talking football placed a poor second, however. Trophies were awarded the Golden Tornado for being City Champs and Runnerup in the NIHSC.

Giarraglia (55), Swetky (51), Geronetta (57), and Sullivan (39), move up on Rockford ball totter.

Track

Emerson's cross country team, with such front starters as John O'Connor, Gene McVety, James Gram, Tony Cefali, George Sopko, James Pesdan, John Abraham, Joe Adams, and Mike Coros, broke even with a 4-4 credit-debit showing.

The score table for the season was compiled with victories over Gary Edison, Hammond Clark, Lew Wallace, and Washington of East Chicago. The cross country team ended the season with a fourth place standing in the N.I.H.S.C.

The team's greatest loss was that of Coach Connelly, who at the close of the season, enlisted in the Navy and is now a lieutenant, junior grade. The boys gave Coach Connelly a navy wallet as a token of farewell. With three seasons of cross country coaching, his expert guiding ability will indeed be missed.

Cross Country

Junior John O'Connor's record this season mirrored that of last year's star, Edward Burns. Most of the team members were juniors, and it is a safe bet that next year's cross country team, strengthened by this year's experience, will be in the super scoring column.

Receiving letters this year were Gerald Hines, Tony Cefali, John Abraham, James Pesdan, George Sopko, John O'Connor, Gene McVety, James Gram, Joe Adams, and Mike Coros.

Bob Johnson.

Tennis

Defeating Washington of East Chicago, 3-2, the Emerson court dusters, under Chester Henson's captaincy, took the Northwestern Indiana Conference Championship. The team's whirlwind courtship included other victories over Hammond-Clark, 3-2, Whiting, 4-1, Hammond-Clark, 4-1, and Whiting, 4-1. In the game for the Northern Indiana Championship, Emerson lost to Elkhart, 5-0. Our slices, lobs, and drives, brilliant as they were, availed nothing. Standing: Jack Bryan with five wins and one loss; Leo Noe, 3 and 1; Paul Stanko, 5 and 1; Kneeling Chester Henson, 5 and 1; Bob Johnson, 4 and 2.

We Strive To Be Physically Fit

On the previous pages you have seen the pictures of excellent boy athletes accompanied by their records. On the pages following you will be impressed by the girl athletes also. Physical education is important every year, war or peace, but in a war year students and parents are more convinced of the soundness of the physical education program. A cross section of this work was presented April 19 in Memorial Auditorium.

This year the commando drills directed by Coaches Rolfe, Klug, and Werner sweated the boys down to a Hollywood slimness and an Army-Navy-Marine Corp alertness. To cross the gym on a rope stretched from the ends of the balcony was a feat expected of every boy.

Miss Jane Reynolds, who is also chairman of the Lake County Physical Fitness for Women Committee, Miss File, Miss Hodge, and Mrs. Bessler used a variety of physical fitness exercises two days each week. The chin-ups, Burpees, and push-ups had no absenteeism so far as muscles were concerned.

Another fine feature of the physical education program is restrictive physical education given during the sixth and seventh periods by Miss Reynolds. The work is based on corrective exercises for individual needs. An overweight student takes different work from one who has to gain. These students are also given special work in posture, sitting, walking, and standing correctly. These classes have been conducted since 1931.

Swimming has been a matter of vital interest to these girls: Doris Dobrick, Ruth Wolf, Viola Ganchos, Barbara Ann Smith, Alice Condo, Alice Pinkowski, Judy Garfine, Bernice Meczenkowski, Kathleen McGuire, Dolores Gile, Marilyn Lee, Blanche Sacketos, Marilyn Laird, Blanche Predaina, Helen Dziurdzy, Mildred Zivonovich, and Martha Hannan. As we go to press, swimming head, efficient and peppy Blanche Sacketos, is getting her group ready for the big swimming date of the year, June 3.

Coming - Waacs - Waves - Spars

At last year's banquet, May 30, Helen Nowak was awarded the loving cup for having amassed 3,625 points, thus shattering the record of 3,200, previously held by Elizabeth Ivan, now a member of the Mann physical education faculty.

The prophets who chose the outstanding freshman at the 1940 banquet were good, for, of their five choices, one became a 1943 board member and two were officers. These prophecies included Helen Dziurdzy, president; Mildred Zivonovich, vice-president; and Sophie Zyha, baseball head. The prophets missed Mary Pitchford who was a super secretary, and Blanche Predaina, a more than capable treasurer.

In sponsors we lost and gained, Miss Janet Hodge is a G.A.A. fan from her own student days at Horace Mann. The Navy's gain was our loss in the case of Miss File, but regret at her leaving was tempered by the return of Mrs. Bessler, whom we greeted heartily. G.A.A. has long been at the top of the list of Miss Reynolds' interests.

With true witch and goblin gaiety, sixty seven couples enjoyed the Halloween Dance on October 29. Games, relay and other, plus box lunches made the fun at the femmes-only party on March 24. Senior dignity was not hurt by the prize lollipops.

Speedball Had Priority

With treacherous hockey sticks safely put away for one year, the G.A.A. opened the 42-43 sports year with speedball. Hockey and speedball are played alternately each year so all the girls will be satisfied. This year speedball had its turn. Mary Gibbons, speedball sports head, began by signing up 125 girls in October. After eight practice games after school the varsity teams were chosen. Ability, sportsmanship, skill, and speed are the qualities which go toward making varsity material for speedball competition.

The varsities were captained by Martha Svatner, freshman; Bea Trimble, sophomore; Catherine Sefton, junior; and Mildred Zivonovich, senior. Rivalry grew between the four teams in the inter-class tournaments. Seniors and juniors tied for the championship by conquering freshies and sophs. The eleventh-hour gave victory to the seniors a one point margin over the aggressive juniors. Ellen Jean Keirn's crazy kick squelched the juniors. Marilyn Lee still doesn't see how she did it.

The traditional spread was not held this fall as in past years, "Out for the duration." However, the good fun of playing together was as keen as always.

Seniors Were City Champs

Basketball enthusiasts signed up for the team with sport head, Phyllis Banker. After eight practice games, Phyllis picked four class varsity teams. Girls making varsity received 25 more than the usual 100 points. The class varsity teams were captained by Mildred Zivonovich, senior; Catherine Sefton, junior; Adeline Kuchta, sophomore; and Barbara Smith, freshman.

The never-to-be-forgotten games were the ones the seniors and juniors played against the boys' senior and junior class teams. All the height and ability of the boys gave them a sweeping victory over the girls. The score of the junior game was 20-1. Peggy Gibbons made the point by making a free throw. The score of the senior game was 31-12. For the first quarter of the senior game the girls held the boys, but then they turned on all their steam! George Nabhan's one-handed shots had the guards running wild. Mary Pitchford couldn't stop 6 ft. 2 in. Fred Schieb from shooting no matter how hard she tried. Glorious fun even if the boys still maintain that girls are the weaker sex.

In all their intramural games, the seniors were victorious. Joan Kerlin, our crack forward, unable to play because of her injured thumb, inspired the girls at every game. Since their freshmen days, the seniors have lost to Froebel, but not this year. The score of the game was 16-24. On Monday, February 22, the seniors "blacked out" Horace Mann with a score of 21-11. Wirt school gave us a run when we beat them 27-15. Rivalry against Lew Wallace does not stop with boys' basketball! Those Wallace girls are just as speedy and sharp as Kalember and Kukoy, but they were stopped by Ellen Jean Keirn's super sniping that netted eleven points. The final score was 22-191.

The juniors had three losses but countered with a win over Lew Wallace, 17-4. Taffy Sefton and Tubby Calhoun make a fine scoring pair, real TNT.

Our sophomores broke even with two wins and two losses. Sharpshooter Angeline Cappony pulled a win from her hat in the Horace Mann game, score 5-3. Excellent team work bowled Wallace over when the final whistle blew, 18-9. Adeline Kuchta captained her team from the bench because of her injured leg, but was none the less enthusiastic, if you know Adeline as we know Adeline.

The first year varsity freshman team had three losses, but defeated Lew Wallace 13-1. Marjy Mulloy and Barbara Smith had speed and ability, two important factors in basketball.

The presence of the photographer must have thrown these gals off form because this is a picture of how it should not be done. Against back wall of gym are Mary Dotlich, Roma Evans, Lois Wardrip, and Donna Thrasher. In front of them are Florence Galka, Pat Walker, Dolores Cichowicz . . . side: Miss Hodge, Fay Behr, and Evelyn Behr; Carmen

Cruz and Helen Magraves shuffleboarding; Vernice Mayes floats; Helen Dziurdzy, Blanche Predaina, and Marilyn Laird make a big splash; Aurelia Gawlik relaxing before the big shove; Phyllis Banker definitely in the swim; Sophie Zyha and Irene Vargo are focus in this speedball game.

We Studied Together

The frosh male officers admire Agnes McConnell, treasurer; George Hansen, secretary; George McKinney, vice-president; Andy Mihai, president; Mike Coutouzis, treasurer.

Milton Barker, secretary, as usual, holds down his end; James Gram, treasurer; Millie Orgon, treasurer; Tom Benson, president; Doris Nikevich, vice-president.

Note the three to two ratio—Smart Sophs. Alice Condo, president; Chester Bokich, secretary; Angelina Cappony, vice-president; George Costley, treasurer; Donna Thrasher, treasurer.

Seniors Draw Near to "Pomp and Circumstance"

On September 8 we started on the last lap of our high school career. We had come through the first three furlongs with flying colors, and it was up to us to win the race as true Emersonians. Those chosen to lead us in the race were George Nabhan, president; Dorothy Rockhill, vice-president; Elmer Eckstrom, secretary; Frank Irvine, boy's treasurer, and Jerry Boswell, girl's treasurer. Without the super coaching and training of our sponsors, however, we would have been far behind at the finish line. Acting as our sponsors were Miss Tappan, chairman; Mr. Connerly, Mrs. Greenwald, Mrs. Harrison, Coach Klug, Mr. Mowbray, Miss Talbot and Mr. Wirt.

This year's senior class was noted for its individuality; its excellent constitution adopted in the freshman year; its high scholastic standing; its 100 per cent support of every school affair.

Our entire senior year was darkened by the departure of many of our boys for service in the armed forces. We really missed them in the halls and in classes, but we were intensely proud of the job they were doing!

Along with other non-essentials, we sacrificed our post-holiday dance and jumped head first into doing all we could to promote the war effort. Our senior boys came through when they began working part-time in the mill. The girls not to be outdone, also worked part-time, chiefly clerking. Senior boys and girls learned sales technique when it came to selling war bonds and stamps. Not only did they prove their sales ability, but they also demonstrated entertaining talents at the U. S. O. center.

We felt the end of our race was nearing on February 18 when we ordered our invitations and calling cards, which had been selected by our class officers. Their choice we liked.

May 14 came next on our calendar of events with the presentation of our senior play, "The Bat," followed by the glorious homecoming dance. The play alternately thrilled and chilled the audience.

Another war year accent was the combining of the Prom and Farewell, traditionally held separately. On May 29 we had a gala affair, dancing to the melodious music of Henry Kayner's orchestra. As always "Home Sweet Home" arrived much too soon.

On June 10 we walked into the auditorium for Class Day, our first official appearance in our caps and gowns. On that occasion came the announcement of whom among our class would be honored by having his name inscribed on the Coach Brasacme memorial plaque presented to the school by last year's senior class. Our last will and testament was read, and with reluctance George Nabhan presented next year's senior class president with the scepter.

Next came Baccalaureate, June 13, when we listened to Rev. Merrill Beale, who spoke to us that memorable afternoon in City Church.

Convocation, June 15, saw us marching in all our splendor down Broadway to the Memorial Auditorium where we met with the students from all the schools.

June 16 was a day also memorable. With tears in our eyes and pride in our hearts, we marched down the aisle of Memorial Auditorium to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" and received our diplomas.

As the last contribution from this class, which proved its ability to stand up and be heard, salutatorian, and Leo Latta validictorian, gave their addresses to a remarkably responsive audience.

TO THE PEOPLE OF GARY

*Little did they realize in nineteen hundred seven,
That all erration's eyes would be upon the beavens,
Where myriad sparks, smoke and flames
Supply the world's grim games.*

*Where ancient tribes, mid lusty chants,
Long before the mad dog's rants,
Smoked the symbol, calumet,
And twined in the ancient set.*

*Not industry, colossal, giant,
With thousands, determined, defiant,
Roars fiery challenge at the common foe,
Who, our peaceful way, seeks to overtbrow.*

*Rouse all people from their troubled sleep,
And cry from the steeple to the beaten who creep.
The hope of freedom that all men feel,
Cries, awake, in the breast of the City of Steel.*

Without Benefit of Flash Bulbs

For to us Mr. H. Bennet has Hobby Number One—he collects Emerson yearbooks; isg work? Look for tips in this book. Finder will get 8 ration points; American Egg Cadets—Louis Magramas, Mike Maragos, James Halvatzis and James Kolettis; F.A.B.—Tri Sigma Fawcett Benquet; Mr. Harrison with his C.C. program. Too bad you can't see the Junior Choir; Coach Brasalme Memorial Plaque with name of John Shepherd, '42 first honoree; Art Gerometta prepares inscription for Emerson, commemorative boulder; over the top with the Red Cross; Twirlers Carol Miller, Alice Syler, Helen Cunningham, Alice Clark, Betty Price and Jeanette Zale; Mrs. Klinefodt enjoys a snack; Art Gerometta, Frank Roman, and Mildred Zivonovich near boulder to be moved from Eastside Park to our lawn; we can see Miss Gwinn's Pop, but we can't see Mrs. McCarnan's Wheaties; Art Gerometta, Mrs. Charlberg, Frank Roman, Mr. Spaulding, Miss Harrison and Miss Newton considering boulder site; the children's last day at Emerson; Mrs. Torhohlenm and Mrs. Tabot; Jack McLaughlin with mysterious crew cut and heavy beard—a face that only a mother could love.

Rudy.
R. Mincher

Retreat is sounded by bugle-borne tones. When the position of attention is assumed, Emersonians steep themselves in recollections of the ended day and the completed year. The "yours-forever" memories of classes, plays, dances and athletic contests are recalled with a quickened pulse. This year, this Jude, thoughts bearing hopes and prayers are projected to North Africa, Guadalcanal, the Solomons, and wherever Emerson boys serve. As the bugle notes fade, the year ends, June 23, 1943, leaving a tender total of highlights and sidelights of life at Emerson.
